Newest of Frocks

Suits, Coats and Skirts

For Miss 14 to 20—prices amazingly low!

Every cable received from our Paris Bureau within the last fortnight has told of the success of white organdie with taffeta.

The tie-around bodice has been winning new favor every day.

We considered these two facts and decided that a frock with surplice tie-around bodice, fashioned of taffeta and finished with collar and cuffs of white organdie would make a chic little costume.

Saturday we shall present this frock (illustrated) at $55—a moderate price, as the taffeta is of noteworthy quality. Navy blue, dark brown or Copenhagen.

New serge frocks
at $39.75 and $49.50

According to pleated skirts are the keynote of frocks at $39.75. Their little overbodies give the effect of the smart Eton jacket.

Serge frock, illustrated, introduces another type of pleated skirt—it is cluster pleated at the sides. Underbodie in the front is of black satin. The gay-colored girdle looks as though it had come from the Orient.

New suits at $49.50
$55 and $69.50

Suits at $49.50 are in the smart, severely tailored model illustrated—in navy blue serge. Gives a stunning silhouette, does it not?

Suits at $55 are also of navy blue serge; coats of some have the new half-Tuxedo collar; others have long shawl collar; coat of one model is bound with black braid.

Suits with Eton jackets and accordion-pleated skirts in black-and-white shepherd checked worsted or navy blue serge, $69.50.

Coats for immediate wear at $59.50

Fine, soft, woolen coatings in reindeer, Pekin blue or navy blue. New model with raglan sleeves and pleated back.

Skirts, $7.50 and $9.75

Plaid material is the latest success of the loom—it is one-quarter wool and three-quarters cotton; it is woven in the same plaids and colors as in the fine woolsens that go into $25 and $30 skirts.

Box-pleated model is $9.75; plain model with pockets, $7.50.

Brown-and-beige, tan-and-navy blue, navy blue-and-beige.
